1. About us

Milestone is a global professional development company specializing in high-impact, immersive Bootcamps designed to transform careers and elevate organizational performance. Founded on a deep curiosity about client challenges and a passion for transformation, Milestone has worked with energy companies, government agencies, military institutions and Fortune 500 companies worldwide.

From its humble beginnings in Tokyo, Milestone has grown organically through word-of-mouth and the strength of its results. Today, it operates at the forefront of leadership training and organizational consulting, blending rigorous instructional design with cutting-edge technology and world-class experts.

What distinguishes Milestone from others in the field is its unique combination of academic rigor and real-world application. Every program is crafted through collaboration between subject-matter experts, learning designers and client partners. This results in a customized approach that speaks directly to the challenges faced by today's leaders.

Our programs are not confined to boardrooms or lecture halls - they extend into simulation labs, command centers, innovation hubs, and even field operations. Whether working with a tech startup in Seoul or a defense ministry in the Middle East, Milestone brings learning to life in ways that resonate deeply and yield lasting change.

2. Our Mission

Milestone is shaping the future of professional development by delivering personalized, high-stakes learning experiences that drive measurable growth. Our success is defined by the transformations we deliver, the careers we elevate, and the industries we revolutionize.

We envision a world where professional learning is not a checkbox exercise, but a strategic asset—fueling innovation, unlocking leadership potential, and enabling systemic transformation across sectors.

“The best investment an organization can make isn’t in technology or infrastructure – it’s in its people.”

Dylan Scudder

5. The Milestone Story

Milestone was never meant to be an ordinary training company. It wasn't even meant to be a global company at all. Its path was defined as much by serendipity as by planning. At its heart, it has always been about one thing: deep curiosity about what clients are experiencing and a relentless commitment to helping them move from where they are to where they want to be.

Milestone didn't grow through aggressive marketing or blind ambition - it grew because the world's most respected organizations sought out its expertise. Time and again, companies, government agencies, and military institutions turned to Milestone for strategic, high-stakes training and consulting that delivered measurable results.

As Milestone's reputation grew, so did its elite team of consultants, subject-matter experts and top-tier trainers, all committed to delivering world-class learning experiences that empower leaders and teams to perform at their highest level. Today, Milestone operates at the cutting edge of leadership development, helping energy companies, government agencies, military organizations and Fortune 500 companies navigate complex challenges and achieve breakthrough performance.

What sets Milestone apart isn't just expertise - it's the deep trust built with the world's most influential decision-makers. The team doesn't just deliver training; they become strategic partners, working hand-in-hand with clients to solve their most pressing challenges.

6. The Founder's Story

Dylan Scudder didn't set out to build a global powerhouse in professional development. In fact, he never intended to go global at all. His journey was shaped as much by chance as by strategy, but at every turn, one thing remained constant - his insatiable curiosity about how businesses, governments, and institutions could operate at their very best.

Dylan's career has taken him on expedition - like projects across nearly every continent, shaping his expertise in organization development strategy, leadership training and experiential learning design. Along the way, he earned a PhD, published best-sellers, lectured at top-tier universities and advised some of the most powerful organizations in the world.

Despite being naturally reserved, Dylan has always been tenacious when it comes to solving real-world business challenges and driving impactful change. Training became the most effective tool to achieve these transformations, and through his work, Milestone was born.

Rather than building a company through traditional means, Dylan found himself pulled into global markets by the sheer demand for his expertise. What began as a handful of training programs in Tokyo quickly evolved into a global consulting and training agency, trusted by military institutions, energy conglomerates and Fortune 500 companies.

What makes Dylan unique isn't just his methodological expertise, but his relentless commitment to understanding his clients' world. He doesn't believe in cookie-cutter solutions - he believes in getting into the trenches, seeing challenges firsthand and designing tailored strategies that deliver lasting impact.

Dylan remains deeply committed to empowering Milestone's exceptional team and supporting clients in unlocking their full potential. The work has always been about more than just training - it's about empowering people, fostering innovation, and driving meaningful change in industries around the world.

"I never set out to be a global entrepreneur," Dylan often says, "but I've always been determined to help organizations get from where they are to where they need to be. Milestone is just the natural result of that commitment."

And that's exactly what continues to drive him today.
